

Information about the scientific study

In the following, we inform you about the study in general, the handling of your personal data in accordance with data protection law and ask for your consent to participate and to the use of your data for the stated purposes. Before participation, please read the following information carefully. Any further questions can be addressed to the head of the study.

The Research Team This study is conducted as a collaboration of the Semantic Computing Group and the Social Cognitive Systems Group of Bielefeld University. The study responsible is:

Dimitry Mindlin

Semantic Computing Group, Bielefeld University

Phone: +49 521 106-12164, Mail: dimitry.mindlin@uni-bielefeld.de

Voluntary Participation Your participation in this study is voluntary. You are free to stop the study at any time without giving any reason and to order the deletion of your data.

Duration of participation The study will take approximately 30min, but can vary.

Reward for participation You will receive an expense allowance of € 4 through Prolific for participating in the study. The allowance can only be paid after completion of the entire study.

Privacy information

Within the scope of this study, personal data will be collected. In addition, the course of The study and your answers to the questionnaires are stored anonymously.

Use and storage of the collected data All collected data except your matriculation number are stored anonymously on an European server online. The matriculation number is stored locally on a university disk and cannot be attributed to the rest of the data. It will be deleted after 6 months. The other data are additionally stored in an internal Sciebo folder. Sciebo is a non-commercial cloud storage of the state of NRW, Germany especially for universities. After the experiment, the data will be stored for 10 years in Sciebo and removed from the cloud storage.

Access to the collected data Only members of the Semantic Computing Group at the University of Bielefeld and have access to the anonymized stored data.

Publication of the collected data The publication of research results in publications or at conferences is exclusively done in anonymous form and does not allow any conclusions about you as a person at any time.

Disclosure to countries outside the European Union (EU) With your consent, the data collected in this study will be stored in accordance with good scientific practice on encrypted university servers for use by other researchers. Your data will always be treated confidentially in accordance with data protection laws and will not be shared with institutions in countries outside the European Union (EU).

You may exercise the following rights at any time:

- Art. 7 para. 3 DSGVO: Right to withdraw consent

You have the right to revoke your consent at any time with effect for the future.

- Art. 15 GDPR: Right of access

You have the right to obtain information about the personal data we process about you.

- Art. 16 GDPR: Right to rectification

If the data concerning you is not correct or incomplete, you can request the correction of incorrect or the completion of incomplete information.

- Art. 17 GDPR: Right to erasure

You may request the deletion of your data at any time.

- Art. 18 GDPR: Right to restrict processing

You may request the restriction of the processing of personal data concerning you.

- Art. 21 DSGVO: Right of objection

You may object to the processing of data concerning you at any time.

- Art. 77 GDPR: Right to complain to a supervisory authority

If you are of the opinion that we have not complied with data protection regulations when processing your data, you can lodge a complaint with the competent supervisory authority, which will examine your complaint. In this case, please contact Anja Schmid, the data protection officer of the University of Bielefeld, either by e-mail to datenschutzbeauftragte@uni-bielefeld.de or by telephone at +495211065225.